Subj: FY00 AIRCREW SYSTEMS OPERATIONAL ADVISORY GROUP (OAG) MEETING

Ref: (a) CNO ltr 13500 Ser N880G4/8U658756 of 14 Dec 98

Encl: (1) FY00 Aircrew Systems OAG Meeting Minutes
(2) FY00 USN/USMC Top Ten Aircrew Systems Priorities

1. CNATRA Safety Office hosted the FY00 Aircrew Systems OAG meeting from 28 February to 2 March 2000. The meeting followed the guidelines outlined in the Aircrew Systems OAG charter (reference (a)). Participants in this working meeting included 92 attendees representing fleet squadrons, air wings, aviation type commanders, Naval Air Systems Command (NAVAIR) and its field activities, HQMC, and OPNAV. Enclosure (1) highlights the OAG meeting minutes and recommendations.

2. The Aircrew Systems OAG is a working group whose primary purpose is to enhance the communication flow on Aircrew Systems issues between the Fleet and OPNAV/HQMC/NAVAIR. Serving as the voice of the Fleet, the OAG also provides input to the budgetary process for Aircrew Systems program management. Enclosure (2) provides the executive board consensus on the Top Ten FY99 Aircrew Systems priorities and safety/mission effectiveness endorsements.

3. The Aviation Survivability Requirements Officer (N880G4) and PMA-202 will provide a progress report on the Top Ten priority list programs and endorsements at the next fleet-wide OAG meeting. Per the OAG charter guidelines, the executive board asked COMNAVAIRLANT (N8/N45) to host the FY01 OAG meeting in the fourth quarter.
